

OUR PARTNERSHIP

Shaping the future of youth and providing data

With Switzerland, UNFPA is reaching young people in Tanzania with information and resources to make informed choices about their bodies and futures. UNFPA supports policies, helps young people feel confident and informed, and make sure health and education systems are there to support them. Switzerland supports UNFPA's work on population and housing censuses, which are central to the development of demographic data and analytical tools providing invaluable insights into the demographics of disadvantaged regions and vulnerable groups, such as the poor, elderly, persons with disabilities, and migrants.

Standing up for women and girls in humanitarian settings

During emergencies, the risk of gender-based violence, exploitation, and abuse significantly increases. Switzerland is a key supporter of UNFPA as the lead agency for the Gender-Based Violence Area of Responsibility. This critical role ensures the effective coordination, prioritization, and delivery of essential services to protect women and girls in humanitarian settings. These services include life-saving interventions such as case management, the establishment of safe spaces, and the provision of mental health and psychosocial support for women, girls, and survivors of gender-based violence.
